

The Call to Church Leadership

Each year the congregation of Greenwich Presbyterian enjoys the privilege of electing a new class of church leaders from its membership. This process involves the entire congregation in partnership with the elected Congregational Nominating Committee (CNC).

The CNC is responsible for presenting the congregation with a slate of individuals for election to the offices of Elder and Deacon. The CNC invites the Church family to participate in this process by recommending from the congregation leaders to serve according to the qualifications described in God's Word (1 Timothy 3) and outlined below:

Elders — Elders exercise leadership, discernment and decision-making for the life of the church. They serve with the Pastor to promote the ministry of the church. Elders are people of maturing faith, godly character, and sound judgment. (Book of Order, G-6.0300)

Deacons — Deacons are the hands of service for the church. Theirs is a role of sympathy, witness, and service after the example of Jesus Christ. Deacons are persons of spiritual character, honest repute, exemplary lives, love, and sound judgment. (Book of Order, G-6.0400)
